

Congratulations on achieving your provisional and / or professional credential!

Now that you have your credential you are eligible for another helpful learning opportunity!!

The Family Needs & Strengths (FANS) assessment and outcome tool for Family Peer Support is derived from the Child Needs & Strengths (CANS), developed by Dr. John Lyons. Seeing the need for a Family Peer Support Services assessment and outcome measure, FANS was developed in partnership with New York State Western Region Family Peer Support Services Program Directors and Dr. John Lyons. FANS is strongly encouraged and endorsed by New York State Office of Mental Health.

- If you work as an FPA currently or have worked as an FPA within the last year, and are interested or If your agency requires you to be FANS certified
- FANS re-certification must be completed on a yearly basis using the TCOM website.
- If you haven't worked or used the FANS for more than 1 year you will need to re-take the Basic FANS training.
